

THE ORGANIC REVOLUTION NEEDS INTERNS & VOLUNTEERS!

HELP BUILD THE ORGANIC MOVEMENT & EARN COLLEGE CREDIT INTERNSHIPS AVAILABLE FOR FALL SEMESTER AND BEYOND

The Organic Consumers Association (OCA) is an 850,000-strong nationwide network of health, environmental, and justice-minded activists.

OCA's cutting edge website OrganicConsumers.org attracts over 30,000 visitors a day. Known for our publication of national and international news relating to food, farming, fair trade, environment, and politics, OCA is now moving toward more coverage and mobilization on local and state issues as well.

We recently have begun expanding our website to make our 50 state web pages and Spanish language sections an information source and platform for people to get information about events, campaigns, and like-minded groups in their state.

OCA needs locally based online interns to help make our state pages a dynamic inter-active platform for daily news, events, and campaigns, as well as providing online links to activist websites, blogs, and green businesses.

Interns will locate and post news stories, campaigns, and events, and reach out to like-minded organizations and green businesses, while developing research, editing, networking, web, and database skills.

Although these are unpaid internships, OCA is willing to work with students to arrange college credit for your work.

Please email volunteer@organicconsumers.org to apply.
